Attend the Webcast “Responding to Today’s Demands with a Dynamic Infrastructure”
Tuesday, October 20, 11:00am EST

As the world becomes more instrumented, intelligent, and interconnected, the demands on your infrastructure continue to grow. IBM continues to chart a strategy to help you deliver a new kind of infrastructure. One that helps you reduce costs, manage risks and improve service. A dynamic infrastructure — designed for a smarter planet.

In this special 45-minute Webcast, you’ll hear from IBM Executives and clients about a host of new offerings that deliver and support a dynamic infrastructure:

- Service Management. Faster time-to-market of services through enhanced visibility, control and automation.
- Systems for a smarter planet. A workload-optimized approach to system design, management and delivery.
- Information Infrastructure. New solutions that achieve significant cost reduction and information-led transformation.

Featured speakers will include:

Rich Esposito – Vice President, ITS&A Services, Middleware Svcs, IBM Global Technology Services

Al Zollar – General Manager, IBM Tivoli Software

Rod Adkins – Sr. Vice President, Development & Manufacturing, IBM Systems & Technology Group

Curtis Tearte – General Manager, Storage Systems
IBM Systems & Technology Group

Upon completion of the Webcast you can receive a complimentary Dynamic Infrastructure Assessment Pack of Web-based self-assessment tools.
